AIRNORTH RESUMES SERVICES BETWEEN TOOWOOMBA AND MELBOURNE

Airnorth is pleased to announce the resumption of services between Toowoomba Wellcamp Airport and Melbourne just in time for the new year. The first service is scheduled to depart Saturday, 26 December 2020 with twice weekly return services every Saturday and Sunday.

“We have been waiting for the opportunity to welcome back our Toowoomba – Melbourne operations since we were forced to suspend services earlier this year,” said Airnorth CEO Daniel Bowden. “The recent easing of border restrictions between Queensland and Victoria has allowed us to welcome the service back into our network’s rotation for 2021.”

This is Airnorth’s third non-stop service departing Wellcamp Airport since March 2020 with connectivity to Cairns, Townsville and then onto Darwin which resumed in mid this year. Operations between Toowoomba and Melbourne have always served as a vital support to the business community of this region and connecting loved ones between the two destinations.

“We are excited to be working alongside Airnorth to recommence the Toowoomba to Melbourne flights at the end of this month. It’s been a long time coming, but with borders now open we are eager to support all domestic travel. We look forward to reconnecting friends and family between Toowoomba and Melbourne over the upcoming holiday period” said Wellcamp Airport General Manager John Wagner.

To celebrate the resumption of these services, Airnorth has launched a sale to celebrate with airfares starting from $183.00 one way between Toowoomba and Melbourne. Sale starts Wednesday 16 December and conclude on Friday 18 December 2020 for travel between 26 December 2020 to March 31, 2021.
